

Parenting Plan Checklist

Date:
Time:
Location:
Mediator:
Attendees:

Notes

This image shows a full page of primary-ruled notebook paper. It features multiple sets of horizontal lines designed to help young learners write neatly. Each set consists of three lines: a solid top line, a dashed middle line, and a solid bottom line. These sets are repeated down the entire length of the page, providing ample space for handwriting practice. The paper is white, and the lines are printed in a light blue color. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the page.

How will you share time with your children over holidays, school breaks, and vacations? How will summer vacation be split between you two? Consider scheduling holiday parenting time several years into the future so that you're prepared for holidays well ahead of time.

How far in advance do trips need to be planned? How will the children's travel expenses be paid for? Is there anyone that cannot travel with the children?

Extended Family and Friends

How will your children spend time and communicate with extended family members and friends? How far in advance do these visits need to be scheduled? Do they need to be supervised?

Making Important Decisions

How will decisions be made about your children's health care, discipline, religion, and schooling? How far in advance do changes to these parts of their lives need to be discussed?

Expenses

How will your children's cost of living be covered? Will you share the responsibility of every child-related cost or will you each be 100% responsible for certain categories of expenses?

Communicating With The Kids

While They're Away

When your children are with the other parent, what will be the primary method of keeping in touch? Will you have predetermined time slots for calls or video visits? Choose the methods that work best for your family.

Notes

Extended Family and Friends

How will your children spend time and communicate with extended family members and friends? How far in advance do these visits need to be scheduled? Do they need to be supervised?

How will your children spend time and communicate with extended family members and friends? How far in advance do these visits need to be scheduled? Do they need to be supervised?

Making Important Decisions

How will decisions be made about your children's health care, discipline, religion, and schooling? How far in advance do changes to these parts of their lives need to be discussed?

How will decisions be made about your children's health care, discipline, religion, and schooling? How far in advance do changes to these parts of their lives need to be discussed?

Expenses

How will your children's cost of living be covered? Will you share the responsibility of every child-related cost or will you each be 100% responsible for certain categories of expenses?

How will your children's cost of living be covered? Will you share the responsibility of every child-related cost or will you each be 100% responsible for certain categories of expenses?

Communicating With The Kids

While They're Away

---

When your children are with the other parent, what will be the primary method of keeping in touch? Will you have predetermined time slots for calls or video visits? Choose the methods that work best for your family.

When your children are with the other parent, what will be the primary method of keeping in touch? Will you have predetermined time slots for calls or video visits? Choose the methods that work best for your family.

[illegible]

Co-Parent Communication:

Do you want to have an online tool to keep all of your communication in one place?

What types of information need to be conveyed and how frequently?

Notes

[illegible]